FIGHTING FOR A CROWBAR.

A Trivial Matter-Attorney Mc-Knight Bobs Up Serenely.

A bubble case came before Justice Speirs this morning, which exploded with slight report after an hour's examination. A man named Strang leased a stone quarry three-quarters of a mile northeast of the cemetery from Mr. Atkins, who is working another rock bed adjoining. Some of the workmen were in the habit of getting their drills, hammers and crowbars mixed up, and more or less trouble always ensued in reclaiming the proper tools. About six weeks ago Mr. Atkins found a lost steel crowbar at the leased quarry, which he claimed and took away. Strang had him arrested for theft to recover the $1.50 bar, which he proposed to prove the ownership of by a

Mr. Fletcher pleaded for the prosect tion, while General Maxwell defended the defendant and the troublesome bar. Ex-Attorney McKnight appeared alongside the defense, which was objected to by Mr. Fletcher, who said McKnight had no business in this or any bar case since the Supreme Court had disbarred him.

McKnight's eyes flashed at such insin uations, and straightening up, he asked the combative attorney if he desired to close the doors against him or intended to muzzle his mouth from a voice in the dispensation of justice.

Judge Spiers, said he had no objection to Mr. McKnight sitting in court and consulting with, attorneys lithe so desired. After examining all the witnesses necessary to destroy the grounds for a case, the decided that no case had been made out against Atkins, who was discharged.

THE LATE "RILEY" JUDD.

The Last Rites to be Observed at Grantsville To-Morrow Afternoon.

The funeral services over the remains of W. Riley Judd, an announcement of whose sudden death by apoplexy Thursday night appeared in last evenings DEM-OCRAT, will take place to-morrow afternoon at his residence in Grantsville. It has been conveniently arranged by the Utan & Nevada that all desiring to attend the funeral can return the same evening by connecting with the bathing train at Lake Point.

Riley Judd was a native of Westport, Ontario, and was 52 years of age at the time of his death. He was well and favorably known throughout the West. Mrs. Margaret G. Clawson and Miss H. P. Kimball, sisters of the deceased, are now with the bereaved family. Many persons acquainted with Mr. Judd will long remember his quaint originalities and good humor. He was in Salt Lake a few days ago, as jovial and hearty as ever in his life, but like all of earth, he has passed away.

and a very high tenor it is, too-for prices gradually harden and show a probability of even higher rates. There seems to be a see-saw. # Released and Bound Over.

Elizabeth S. Starkey, the girl polygamous wife of Charles White, the brushmaker, was yesterday discharged from further imprisonment in the Penitentiary Eugene, son of Wm. Carroll, was drowned for contempt in refusing to testify before the Grand Jury last June. Immediately on being released from custody she was arrested as a witness in the U. C. case against White, and taken before Judge Zane, who fixed the bonds at the low amount of $500 for her appearance before the Grand Jury on September 14th.

Miss Starkey having no friends par ticularly well off in this world's goods, caused a little delay in securing bondsmen until a rather late hour, when the desired sureties arrived and the 17-year old girl was given freedom, for a time at least. What an inhuman being White must be to permit a woman to screen him In this manner from his just deserts.

Lode-The Great Crescent, Apex and Anchor.

Mrs. James Anderson is at the Park, visiting the mines and other points of houses and getting ready for extensive Harry Haines and some of his friends are taking in the Park, having come over from Brighton. The Daly is reported to look better than the Ontario did at the same depth, and ore shipments still continue.

The Marsac mill which is being overhauled is nearing completion, and only a short time will elapse before the stamps will begin dropping on Daly ores.

The Sampson mine is looking well in the lower workings, and as soon as the tunnel now in progress reaches the vein, so as to tap the water, ore shipments can be expected.

Apex stock is going to be worth a dol-lar a share in less than ninety days. Some of the mining prophets of the Park predict ore shipments are soon to commence and then Apex will boom. The Anchor Mining Company, a consolidation of the Utan and White Pine companies, are sinking a double compartment shaft, and are erecting new buildings preparatory to doing permanent work Rollo Grant, son of Chief Engineer Grant of the Ontario mill, has so far recovered from his broken leg as to be around town, and will be well enough to go to school again at the beginning of the September term. Many new buildings are going up at Park City, from near the depot grounds to the Daly mine, and the sound of hammer and saw is heard from one end of town to the other, denoting prosperity and faith in the country. We recommend the City Council of Salt Lake to make a visit to the Park and see how a Gentile municipal government keeps the town. Everything about Park City is kept under the best sanitary reguations, which we are sorry to say cannot be said of this city. The Crescent Company have com-menced to receive the heavy rails from the Union Pacific Railroad Company for their tramway, and will commence lay-ing them in the place of the lighter ones at once. The engine purchased last spring will then be used to haul the ore cars from the Crescent mine to the depot, instead of using mules as has been done heretofore. The rails are brought from the Utah & Northern branch of the Union Pacific.

its fine atmosphere and surroundings, surpassed anywhere cannot be during the heated season." Situated at the head of Big Cottonwood canyon, noted for its majestic and pic turesque scenery, thirty miles from dust-covered Zion, seven miles from Park City and three miles from Alta, it is approachable from almost every direction by a few hours of travel. It is difficult to state the most pleasant route by which Brighton may be reached from this city, but the way by Alta is at least the most comfortable, and should be taken by adies and children not desirous of the shaking up attendant upon a wagon ride over the other routes. Leaving Selt Lake at 7 in the morning, by the D. & R. G., Alta is reached by noon. Horses from Brighton are found waiting to carry passengers over the ascent to the top of the divide. To strangers in Alta this part of the journey is attractive. Dan Brighton, the genial guide, ever ready to impart information, points out to visitors the situations of Alta's many noted mines, the Emma, Flagstaff, City of Rocks, Evergreen, and others, and the tracks of snow-slides which have made Alta so sadly famous. Below, and so precipitous that it seems as though one might jump into them, are the Twin Lakes, which lie quiet and sleepily surrounded by the most romantic loveliness. The view here obtained is one that never can be forgotten, and can scarcely be excelled in grandeur and sublimity. THE FRANCO-GERMAN WAR.

How Bismark Forced the Struggle Upon France.

Paris, July 22d .- The Figuro has commenced a series of recollections of the last years of Napoleon III, under the signaure Fidus. They include the following version of what passed on the eve of the declaration of war, which is said to have been obtained from M. Louvet, who was Minister in 1870.

M. Ollivier entered the side room and ierally was such an able writer came one, and which he himself confessed was after agreeing to meet next day at 9 o'clock. The Emperor, on leaving the Tuileries some of the most tempting and inviting spots imaginable to while away a few hours with some favorite author or in that pleasurable pastime of sleep. From a peak above Martha's lake a minimum of the fallieries to go to St. Cloud, was cheered by the crowd collected in the square and on the quay. The crowd called for war, without understanding all that it meant. On ara peak above Martha's lake a view is ob- riving at St. Cloud the Emperor was surrounded by several persons, who had brought the news of the famous article inserted in the German newspapers, which it was stated that the King Prussia had dismissed M. Benedetti, tell-of ing him that he had nothing further to add. Count Bismarck had circulated and and to bring on war. And he attained his object.

W. Lawrence, and lamily, drawing room of the St Cloud. This was the news received on his arrival by the unfortunate Emperor, who had left the Tuieeries reassured, and so full of confidence and have dence and hope.

We saw at once the consequences of this new incident. The Congress had become impossible. The declaration could not made. Other resolutions should be taken; other means sought for. Could war be avoided? There had been the closest approach to an escape. If the declaration had been made at 6 o'clock in the Chamber, there would have been an end to the difficulty; now all had to be begun again.—London Times.

MEDICAL

Hereby cautions the public NOT to Employ or Communicate with a man styling himself "Br. Foot, Jr." without making due inquiry.

This man came to Salt Lake City representing himself as the son of Dr. E. B. Footz of New York, the well known specialist, as abundantly proved by affidavits. As rumors came into Salt Lake City from Dakota and Montana from an expose made there, he changed his base and represented himself as the son of a more noted specialist in New York City than Dr. E. B. Footz, the well known author. Mr. John F. Trow, of the well known Trow's Directory, in New York City (forty years in the directory business), Ex-Governor Frank Fuller, of Cish, and the Hon. Amam Wakenan, for many years Postmaster in New York City, also Surveyor of the Port, gave their affidavits that there are no other doctors in New York by the name of Foot or Footz, excepting Dr. E. B. Footz, the author of "Medical Common Sense," etc., and his two sons, Dr. E. B. Footz, Jr., and Dr. Humer T. Footz. The genuine Dr. Footz, Jr., will hereafter always engaloy the initials, E. B., in designating his name. Heretofore he has been known not only at home but wherever his publications have been circulated, by the name of Dr. Footz, Jr. Greater care will be taken hereafter, in view of the fact that an unprincipled person has assumed to profit by his and his father's reputation.
